

Requirements/wishes to help Antoni deliver a peak performance speech

We have all experienced technical hiccups or other challenges at an event. It's live, and anything can happen. In order to minimize risk and optimize performance, this checklist will contribute to making your event a success!

Before the event

Before the event it is beneficial to have a pre-call. Knowing the purpose of the event and the outcome you desire will help Antoni tailor the messages to suit your audience. A few weeks before is sufficient. If you want something more from Antoni - like interviews, round tables, panel discussions - it's a good time to prepare this as well. Photos, logos etc. are available on antonilacinai.com. When Antoni has arrived at the venue, he will gladly have another meeting to get the latest updates.

Having a pre-call with the moderator is also advisable, to ensure that the right intro is there, as well as possible questions afterwards.

A/V requirement

If you want Antoni to use his own computer, please provide:

- A "bar table" on stage for the computer, and a glass of still water.
- A projector with an HDMI connection.
- Sound.
- Headset.
- Preferably two Flip charts on stage.
- A chair.

If you handle all the technology yourself, please provide:

- A screen, visible from the stage, set in "speaker mode" in order to show the current and the upcoming slide.
- A "bar table" with a glass of still water and room for some notes.
- A clicker.
- Two flip charts (preferably) on stage.
- A chair.
- a watch/timer in the room to keep time.
- A technician for a walk trough of slides, sound etc. before the keynote.

Introductions

Please use the relevant one-pager on antonilacina.com as the moderator's basis of introduction. This can then be tailored even further, and Antoni will be happy to support you with that.

Music:

If you want entrance music when Antoni enters the stage, please use this one: Antonis Jingel

Filming and taking photos

You are free to film and take pictures, as long as Antoni has full access to the material as well, for his own marketing purposes.

If you don't film it but are able to record his audio, Antoni would appreciate if you could, for his own constant development.

Food

- If lunch or dinner is included, Antoni eats most things even though he prefers vegetarian food. He is allergic to raw apples, pears, cherries, peaches and blue cheese.

After the event

Antoni is happy to stick around, if time allows, for meet-& greets with your VIPs

Antoni is happy to join a follow-up call, giving you his thoughts and advice on possible next steps for you. This is not a sales call. He, of course, would like to get your feedback as well, on what worked well and on potential improvements for the future.
